

Reaction Paper Rubric

When providing feedback to submissions, provide a numerical score per criterion. At the end of the report provide an overall assessment and an average numerical score rounded up to an integer. Then divide that number by two, explaining to the student that the research paper is worth 2 points per the syllabus. So, if an overall average is rounded up to an integer score of 4, the grade is divided by 2, so the score recorded is 2. Likewise, if the overall integer is 3, then this is divided into 2, thus 1.5, and so on.

Criteria	4 - Excellent	3 - Good	2 - Satisfactory	1 - Needs Improvement
Summary	Thoroughly summarizes key arguments and themes; clear and concise.	Summarizes most key arguments and themes; minor clarity issues.	Summarizes some arguments and themes; lacks clarity and detail.	Fails to summarize key arguments; unclear or incomplete.
Analysis	Provides insightful and critical analysis; effectively connects theories to contemporary issues.	Offers a good analysis; makes some connections to contemporary issues.	Basic analysis; few connections to contemporary issues.	Lacks analysis; no connections to contemporary issues.
Personal Reflection	Deeply reflects on personal insights gained; articulates compelling thoughts.	Reflects on personal insights; some compelling thoughts present.	Limited reflection; few insights articulated.	Lacks personal reflection; no insights gained.
Citations	Properly cites all sources in the correct format; no errors.	Cites most sources correctly; minor errors in format.	Cites some sources; multiple errors in format.	Fails to cite sources or uses incorrect format extensively.
Overall Structure	Well-organized and coherent; flows logically from one section to another.	Generally organized; minor issues with flow or coherence.	Some organization; lacks clear flow between sections.	Poorly organized; difficult to follow or understand.